

LET'S CALL IT A DEAL, OR IS IT JUST A MEAL!!!- Dr Rukhsana

As meek as the weak, as strong as the rock.

As bold as gold, the ever changing woman is ever untold.

Her cry maybe feeble, but from her lap is born a man who is able.

When tender little feet, with laughter & giggles,

Grow up, to go on the streets with torments & struggles.

Here she learns from family, friends & foes,

Life is not just about smileys, selfies & pose.

When the Almighty does not differ in the route of birth or mode of death.

Then why is she not provided, to be well read?

Why is she confined to the enclosures of the kitchen?

When she is born with a right to education.

Fourteen hundred years ago the seed of our religion was sown.

Then a considerable responsibility, by women was borne.

How could our deen survive without her deal making skills,(Bibi Khadijah)

The number of ahadiths shared is a matter of awe & thrills. (Bibi Ayesha)

Someone has said "Clothes maketh a man."

For women, knowledge, wisdom & education is the gravity of the situation
