

SAVE THE EARTH –SAVE THE GIRL CHILD

Wining entry

by Afsari

Std X1

LAMENTATIONS OF A THROTTLED GIRL CHILD

I LAYED THERE

DEAD AND COLD....

It feels like the happiest day today

No more in her womb I'll stay

As its my mom's delivery

And soon I'll be a part of the family.

I have dreams in my eyes ,

Since the day I set out from God's paradise

He implanted me in my mother and lent me the last lesson is being a good daughter .

I am eagerly waiting to grow up as a girl child desperate to try out all things wild ,

All those games 'n' slides , sitting on Dad's shoulders will be the best ride .

Trustingly mom's fingers I'll clutch

And will never know the meaning of "grudge".

20th February 2013 , 1900 hours

Finally I 'am here to explore the world so far from India to Rome

I'am sure to bring laurels to my home .

I winked to lure them

And pasted a cute smile .

My dad threw his arms free,

I thought they were to cuddle me

Instead they went around my neck

And here I suffocated ,heck!

I took my last breath looking at mom,

hoping for her help

But she stood there motionless until I stopped giving them stress .

They packed me in polythene and dumped me in the dustbin

Oh Mom and dad

I wish I could tell the pain I felt when you killed me along the dreams I dealt

I never knew why you all denied me .

was'nt I pretty or that I was a girl?

A wining cartoon from the competition